Verdun, Oct. 27, 6 p. m., (By The A. German troop concentrations in the region of Eriquenay, north of Grand Pre, were bomoarded this af-teenoon by about sixty all-American bombing airplanes with about eighty pursuit planes protecting them. For-mations of from fifteen to twenty German machines attempted to drive off the Americans and several aerial combats resulted. Two American combats resulted. Two American planes are reported missing. Lieutenant Edward Rickenbacher was among the pursuit planes accom-panying the bombing squadron. He engaged in two aerial combats and brought down a German machine within the American lines near Exer-mont. Rickenbacher followed the enemy machines close to the ground un-

General Ludendorf Resigns From Army

Regarded in Switzerland and Central Powers as Indication Militarism is Really Abdicating.

Copenhagen, Oct. 27.—General Lu-dendorff, first quartermaster general of the German army, has resigned, says a telegram from Berlin. In accepting his resignation the emperor has decreed that the Lower Rhenish infantry regiment, No. 39, of which General Ludendorq long had been commander, shall bear his name.

Copenhagen, Oct. 27 (By the A. P.).

Germany's answer to President Wilson's latest communication says:

"Mr. Wilson grudgingly admits that the republicans have been pro-war. Then why does ne demand their defeat? Because they are still pro-war? Hardly that. "Mr. Wilson wants only rubber stamps, his rubber stamps, in congress. He says so. No one knows it tetter than democratic congressmen. He calls for the deleat of pro-war republicans and the election of anti-war democrats. He, as the executive, is no longer satisfied to be one branch of the government, as provided by the constitution. Republican congressmen must be defeated and democratic congressmen must, as they would, yield in everything. That is evidently his idea—the idea of an autocrat cailling himself the servant but hidding for the mastery of this great free people. "Republicans in congress have seemed to him good enough when they assented, as they did assent with highest patrotism and sevents only a congress have seemed to him good enough when they assented as they did assent with highest patrotism and sevents called the constitution.

to him good enough when they assented as they did assent with highest patriotism and sometimes against their best judgment, to his appeal. Republicans at home have seemed to him good enough to send fully a million of their sons into battle, to furnish at least half of the army and far more than half of the money for the winning of the war, but they are not considered good enough to have a voice in the settlement of the war.

"But Mr. Wilson's real purpose has publican party. It is difficult to overestimate the supreme importance of sustaining the president of the United States and the republican party. "But Mr. Wilson's real purpose has nothing to do with the conduct of the war. He has had that from the beginwar. He has had that from the beginning, has it now, and nobody dreams of interfering with his control. He wants just two things. One is full power to setche the war precisely as he and his sole, unelected, unappointed unconfirmed personal advisor may determine. The other is full power as the 'unembarrassed spokesman in affairs at home' as he actually demands in his statement, to reconstruct in peace times the great industrial affairs of the nation in the same way, in unimpeded conformity with whatever socialistic Jootrines, whatever unlimited government ownership notions, whatever unlimited government ownership notions, whatever lis detailed among themselves in authority. "Mr. Wilson is for unconditional surrender—yes, for the unconditional surrender to himself of the republican party, of the country, of the allies—all to him, as the sole arbiter and master of the destinies of the world. Do you stand for that? Answer with your votes!"

TUMULTY DEFENDS

New York, Oct. 27.—Will H. Hays, chairman of the republican national committee, made public here tonight a statement in which he replied in behalf of his party to President Wilson's appeal to the nation to return a democratic congress. In his stricement Mr. Hays said:

"President Wilson has questioned the motives and fidelity of your representatives in congress. He has thereby impunged their lovalty and denied their patriotism. Als challenge is to you who elected those representatives. You owe it to them, to the honor of your great party and to your own self respect to meet that challege squarely, not only as republicans no credit whatever for having supported the war measures' proposed by his administration, although they have done so with greater unanimity than the members of his own party. Despite that fact, he accuses them of having tried to usurp his proper functions.

"At no time and in no way have they tried to take control of the war out of his hands. The president knows that. The country knowns it. A more ingracious, more unjust, more wanton, more mendacious accusation was the publican for the United States, for partisan purposes. It is an insult, not only to every loval republican in congress, but to cvery loval republican in congress, but to cvery loval republican in congress, but to cvery loval republican in the land, it fully merits the resentment which rightfully and surely will find expression at the pollors.

"Mr. Wilson accords the republicans no credit whatever for having supported the war made to the victories of our-pace commission to secure the fruits of war. Such a refusal to sustain the president in this strugstent was a president with the president's appearing at the furnity of the committee's consideration without comment.

From former President Harrison, pleading for the election of a republican congress:

"If the word goes forth that the people of the United States are standing solidly behind the president, the task of the peace commissioners will be easy, but if there is a break in the ranks—if the democratic score a telling victory, if democratic senators, congressmen and governors are electcongressmen and governors are elect-ed—Spain will see in it a gleam of hope; she will take a fresh hope and a renewal of hostilities, more war may be necessary to secure to us what we have already won."

Prom Senator Lodge: "But there is one question on which I wish to say a few words and that seems to me to override all others. It is whether we shall stand by the administration and the president at this juncture. If we give a victory to his political opponents we say not only to the United give a victory to his political oppo-nents, we say not only to the United States, but we say to the world, we say to the Spanish commissioners in Paris, that the people of the United States repudiate its result and repudi-ate the man who has led victoriously the war and is now leading as back to the war and is now leading us back to peace—William McKiniey." From Senator Penrose: "In his recent spesches the president has ap-pealed not to a partisan but to a na-tion spirit. He wants Pennsylvania to remain the keystone state for the would question the fitness of the re-publican party for the discharge of this duty, but, however it might be otherwise, the work is already in the hands of President McKinley. What he wants is the support of the house of to compel a unity of command under General Foch. Ever since that time America and her allies have been winning victories and a triumphant con-clusion of the war is in sight as long as unity of command and of action is preserved. Unity of command in Europe must be back up with unity of command and action in America.
